

I cannot support this proposal as it is essentially maintains the status quo by retaining the Morse requirement while providing no justification for doing so.